market commentary

Fixed income markets posted mixed returns over the quarter, with government bonds outperforming corporate bonds. Financial markets witnessed unprecedented levels of volatility, with the spread of the COVID-19 epidemic beyond China, which led to a sell-off in risk assets and significant moves in government bond yields. Global central banks reacted promptly with new policy responses. Central banks, such as the Bank of England (BoE), European Central Bank (ECB), Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) and Bank of Canada also eased their monetary policies. German bunds and UK government bond (Gilt) yields followed their US counterparts and ended lower over the quarter. Government bond yields rose for a brief period before falling sharply on the announcement of quantitative easing measures by major G20 economies, while credit spreads continued to widen.

risk rating

Very Low Low Low/Medium Medium Medium/High High Very High

All investments carry a level of risk. You need to decide how much of each type of risk you're prepared to take. The table below gives an overview of some of the risks associated with this fund.

risk type	description of risk	level of risk for this fund
Capital Risk	This is the risk that the value of your investments will fall. The younger you are, the less worried you might be about capital risk, because your investments have time to recover their value before your retire.	Med
Inflation Risk	This is the risk that the value of your investments will grow more slowly than prices rise. Inflation can be a problem for pension savings invested in cash funds particularly if the interest you're earning is less than the rate of inflation.	Med
Pension Conversion Risk	The price of an annuity changes on a regular basis. This means that the amount of income you can secure with the same amount of money will change. Pension conversion risk is the risk that the amount of income you can buy drops before you retire, because your money is invested differently to annuity funds. That's why putting more of your DC pension pot into bonds to try to match annuity prices as you get closer to retirement age can help protect against this risk.	Low

About the factsheet

It is important to remember that the price of units can go down as well as up. There's no guarantee that you'll get back the amount that goes into your DC pension pot. Changes in rates of currency exchange, particularly where overseas securities are held, could also affect the value of your investment.

Although the funds can typically be bought and sold on a daily basis, if an exceptional amount of withdrawals are requested, the fund manager may need to delay when you can access your holdings. All funds are provided through FIL Life Insurance Ltd and may invest in securities issued by or hold deposits with HSBC Holdings plc and associated companies.

The Trustee can change the underlying managers or funds at any time without member consent or prior notification.

Valuation time: Business days at 5:00pm (UK time)
